Sterling Caravans 2001

The selection of a new tourer is important. This brochure will provide you with an insight into the Sterling Tourers range and, with the help of your dealer, enable you to select the right tourer.

Sterling Caravans is the name behind a range of tourers whose history can be traced back over 80 years to the earliest days of British caravanning.

All Sterling tourers are the result of innovation and a careful blend of advanced technology and traditional build skills. This has resulted in an enviable collection of design awards.

Eccles Elite

Eccles

Europa

For 2001, Sterling brings you a choice of 3 ranges that complement each other perfectly. The all new Europa, offering outstanding choice and value for a modern family on the move; Eccles, the celebrated tourer with 80 years of history; and Eccles Elite, the expanding range of definitive twin axle tourers.

Safety is an important issue. Sterling guarantees this through an ultra modern manufacturing plant that incorporates rigorous quality systems. These have gained the company ISO 9001 and ensure all models comply with European standards. Before even the first prototype is built, state-of-the-art computer-aided design allows three-dimensional models to be checked for weight distribution and aerodynamics, which are crucial for safe towing.

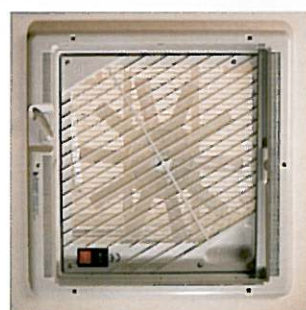

Quality is assured, with many components manufactured in our own factory, including the Glass Reinforced Plastic used for the tough and stylish front and rear panels. A massive investment in the latest manufacturing technology has enabled Sterling to produce engineering standards of accuracy in furniture construction. This unique system gives dual benefits of the finest quality finish and totally rigid construction. This affords Sterling high levels of quality control that is the envy of the competition.

Buying a Sterling buys you more than just a tourer. It also provides you with a market leading Supercare aftersales service and 3 year SuperSure manufacturer's warranty, designed to make the ownership of your tourer enjoyable and trouble-free.
